PRESIDENT WILSON CARRIES HIS FIGHT TO HOME OF ENEMY

Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—Following a four mile ride through flag decked streets, President Wilson this morning addressed an audience that filled every inch of the big convention hall here. As at St. Louis, the meeting was entirely non-partisan in character. It was under the auspices of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

President Wilson was escorted to his place on the platform at exactly 10 o'clock. He was cheered to the echo as he walked forward to the front of the big platform. The entire audience had been given small American flags and the men and women stood on their feet and waved them as they cheered.

The president sat smiling at the crowd while waiting for the enthusiasm to subside. It was some minutes before the presiding officer, Mr. F. A. Parsons, president of the Chamber of Commerce, could get the attention of the crowd to introduce the president.

The hall was jammed and there was a fire crowd all along the route that the procession followed from the station.

As Chairman Parsons started to speak some one back in the audience shouted:

"Mr. President, remember this is the home town of Jim Reed."

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—President Wilson carried his fight to arouse public sentiment for ratification of the treaty of Versailles into the home of Senator James Reed, the leading Democratic opponent of the document today.

Fresh from what he considered a great personal triumph in St. Louis, the president planned to follow up his line of argument here that ratification of the treaty was essential to the future welfare of the United States.

The president and Mrs. Wilson rose early and breakfasted on their train. They took up a position on the rear platform of the train and waved a greeting to the people who had gathered at the various stations to see the train go by.

The president was plainly pleased with the character of the receptions yesterday. He characterized the meeting last night as "wonderful." He told the members of the party that he was convinced public sentiment could be influenced to check much of the opposition to the treaty.

It was the intention of the president, Secretary Tumulty explained,

Mrs. Mary A. Wahrum and her daughter, Mrs. Louise W. Quick, both of Brooklyn, N. Y., both of whom were candidates for the County Committee, with neither knowing that the other was in the race. The mother is a staunch Democrat while her daughter is a Republican.

to analyze the economic clauses of the treaty today and to show how essential it was to the financial welfare of the country that it be ratified.

The president then declined to make public the text of his reply to the steel committee of the American Federation of Labor that called upon him to aid the effort to secure negotiations between the Federation and Judge E. H. Gary, president of the Steel Corporation. The president admitted it is much concerned over the danger of a general strike in the steel industry and is using every possible influence to keep the men from walking out.

He already has asked President Gompers to try to prevent any strike until after the planned conference between the representatives of capital, labor and the farmers is held in Washington, next Monday. However, the information reaching here today indicates that this will be impossible.

Today's program called for a meeting and speech here and then the party was to leave for Des Moines, where the president will speak tonight and remain over Sunday. Instructions were sent on that the president is to be allowed to spend Sunday in his own way. It was his intention to go to church in the morning and to take a ride in the afternoon.

The presidential train was halted for three quarters of an hour in the early morning in order that the arrival in Kansas City could be made according to schedule. A small crowd of farmers and residents of Independence gathered and greeted the president who shook hands with the men and women. Some of the latter wore big cottage aprons and Mother Hubbard house dresses, and one of them in an apologetic manner informed the president that they "would have dressed up" if they had known that he was to stop. The president told them that he was glad indeed to see them "just as you are."

One man told the president that Independence formerly was the home of the noted bandit, Jesse James.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—With Columbus in her best "bib and tucker" for the opening of the National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic tomorrow, her citizens and visitors are still walking this morning, with a chance that before noon the platform men will vote to return to work. Mayor Karb and union leaders early today expressed a belief that the men will vote today to run the cars, probably starting shortly after noon. Neither would say what agreement has been reached.

The linemen, who have been on strike since August 8, have refused to arbitrate and left the meeting, which lasted until after midnight last night. Who will make necessary line repairs is not known.

Policeman Niernman has already refused an offer of $500 for his find.

SERVE IN ARMY EXACTLY ONE YEAR

Exactly a year from the day in which they were inducted into the service at Camp Sherman, Lawrence Fry of this city and Arthur Alexander of Yellow Springs received their discharges and arrived home Friday.

Both young men were in the increment of fifty who left Xenia September 5, 1918, and they have been in the service in Camp Sherman ever since. Since the signing of the armistice, both have been attached to demobilization units, called billeting and supply companies, assisting in discharging overseas men. These units have been broken up at Sherman now, and there will be no more discharges there, the few who were not discharged being sent to Camp Meade. The Fortieth Regular Infantry is all that is left of the camp that made Ohio famous and they are guarding a city of empty barracks.

Fry and Alexander were the last Greene County boys located at Camp Sherman to be discharged.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—Yesterday being the last day to get referendums on the 1919 ballot, under the sixty day limit allowed by law, the presidential suffrage, the Reynolds-Potts suffrage bill, two minor Crabbe prohibition bills and the bill of Senator Miller providing for a liquor commissioner, will not be voted on until next week. POOR CORNELIUS HAVING HARD TIME

New York, Sept. 6.—Financial problems are worrying Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., these days. And the problem isn't how to dispose of his "unearned increment," from his family's vast fortune, but how to stretch $25 a week over the necessities of life.

Against the wishes of his family, young Cornelius has flatly refused to go to Yale and has taken up newspaper work on a New York paper. He is "cubbing" for $25 a week. His father informed him that no more allowance would be forthcoming, but that he might have his room at home and drop around occasionally for a meal.

Then the family went to Europe, closing up the house and the scion of the Vanderbilts is sleeping on a small boat which is his own, down on Long Island to save room rent, and eats—when he can—at places where $25 is looked upon as real money. And there aren't many of such in New York now.

ONLY TWO MEMBERS OF BOARD APPEAR

Only two members of the recently appointed Greene County District Board of Health Directors met with Dr. Henry E. Kock of Cincinnati, district supervisor of the State Department of Health, at the called meeting, was disappointed that the held in the court house, Friday afternoon.

Owing to the lack of attendance, the other three members not being present, the meeting was postponed and will be held at a later date.

Dr. Kock, who was here for the meeting, was disappointed that the members did not take the proper interest in the affair and be present at the meeting.

Dr. Kock will announce the time of the next meeting later.

CAPT. DARLINGTON AND H. E. RICE TO BE AMONG SPEAKERS

The civic dinner to be held in connection with the chamber of commerce organization campaign promises to be a great success. 150 reservations have already been made, and more are coming by telephone and mail. The additional 100 seats will be available to those who reserve them first. Lucius E. Wilson is expected to arrive from Chicago early Monday and he will spend the day in conference with business and community leaders. Local speakers are Captain C. L. Darlington and Harry E. Rice. C. A. Weaver will preside at the dinner and will introduce the speakers.

Captains will draw their districts by lot Monday night at the dinner.

Captains and workers met last night at campaign headquarters to receive instructions for their work of the coming week. Enthusiasm and determination marked the meeting.

The actual enlistment of a minimum of 300 members pledged to pay $25 dues annually for three years, will commence Tuesday morning. It is believed, however, that 300 members will never satisfy the campaign organization of 12 teams, consisting of almost 75 workers.

Daily luncheons, with snappy songs, interesting reports by captains, and short talks by the best speakers that can be secured will feature next week's activities. The luncheons will be served at the campaign headquarters. They will start at 12:00, sharp, and when 1:15 strikes the luncheons will stop.

This will be a standing rule with all noon-day chamber of commerce meetings from now on. When business men learn they can make appointments on this basis, and know they will be able to keep them, luncheons and conferences will become popular.

RECEPTION FOR VETERANS IS A BRILLIANT EVENT

Brilliant in all its details was the reception which the Second United Presbyterian church tendered its soldier and sailor boys and their friends in their beautiful church on West Market street Friday night.

The members of the session of the congregation with their wives and the members of the Young Ladies Missionary Society were the hosts and hostesses to Uncle Sam's boys. The congregation has an honor roll of twenty-nine names and almost every man who was in the region was present in addition to any military guests the boys chose to invite, the invitation to friends being a liberal one.

Under the direction of the choir leader, Miss Martha Anderson, a program of popular war songs was enjoyed. As a tribute to the parents of the boys Robert Moore sang "Dear Old Pal." David Bryson sang "The Americans Come." Dr. J. G. Carson sang "My Ain Country." William Anderson sang "Your Flag and My Flag." Miss Martha Anderson and Mrs. Graham Bryson sang "Mickey." With Mrs. Fannie Moore at the piano the audience whistled "Beautiful Ohio" and "Till we Meet Again."

The address of welcome to the returned soldiers and sailors was given by the pastor, Rev. Charles P. Proud, fit D. D., and the response on behalf of the boys by Captain Ben R. McClellan M. D. The formal program came to an end with the singing of the beautiful nineteenth Psalm and prayer by Rev. Joseph Kyle D. D.

Among the outstanding features of the evening was the staging of a farce comedy entitled "Unlabeled Blessings" by the Young Ladies Missionary Society. The same society also served appetizing lunch to the large company of guests, number, about two hundred and twenty-five.

The newly decorated house of worship was thrown open from top to bottom and many expressions of delight in the delicate cream frescoing of the walls, and refinishing of all the wood work were heard. The military decorations for the evening also claimed much notice.

BOLSHEVIKS KILL 23 AMERICANS

London, Sept. 6.—The killing of 23 American soldiers by Russian Bolsheviks in an outbreak near Vladivostok was reported in a delayed telegram from Tokyo to the Daily Express today.

There are now 8,000 soldiers in the vicinity of Vladivostok, but this number is said to be greatly inadequate, if the general populace should become hostile.

Destruction by roving bands of reds, interference with railway communication by "free lance" forces, such as the detachments of Cossacks led by General Semenov and strikes are producing a very unsatisfactory state of affairs in far eastern Russia, Tokyo reported.

The inter-allied mission at Vladivostok is making protests and is seeking the removal of General Semenov.

ACTORS STRIKE COMES TO END IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 6.—Broadway came back into its own today. The actors strike is over.

Announcement was made at 3 o'clock this morning that a settlement had been reached satisfactory to both sides. Representatives of the actors Equity Association and the Producing Managers Association had been in continuous session since early last evening.

Details of the settlement were not announced. It was said that the managers had won out on their stand for an open shop. They were forced to back down in their determination not to recognize the Equity, however.

Plans were being rushed today for the reopening of the thirty theaters closed by the strike. Some of them expected to put on matinees this afternoon. Others will be opened tonight and by next Monday every show that was forced to close down probably will be on again. Several new shows that had been scheduled to open in the past three weeks also were expected to have their premiere soon.

To the dramatic group of the authors league of America goes the credit of bringing the warring factions together. Augustus Thomas, chairman of that body, succeeded in getting representatives of the two sides to consent to a meeting. It was the first time that the principals themselves on the two sides had met for frank discussion. Heretofore their attorneys have done all the negotiating.

Arthur Hopkins, A. H. Woods, David Belasco, Samuel S. Harris, Henry W. Savage, Wm. A. Brady and John B. Golden were present for the managers. Francis Wilson, president, Frank Gilmore and Justus Sheffield were there from the Actors Equity Association. The settlement followed radical action taken by the stage hands union last night. Before it was announced that the actors strike was over an order was sent out by the officers of that body calling out stage hands in every theater throughout the country leased by the Shuberts.

"THE 80 PER CENT"

Frank Moorman, local amateur cartoonist, who occupies his spare time and uses his considerable ability in drawing cartoons of local interest, has drawn a cartoon on the subject of the local speed law enforcement, taking a fling at the Marcus Shoup letter to the Cincinnati Automobile Club.

The cartoon, which is on display in the window of the Sayre & Hemphill drug store, shows prominent citizens jumping without regard to dignity, to escape a speeding machine which is traveling at an excessive speed through the city streets. The citizens who are dodging to save their lives are labeled "some of the 80% who are opposed to enforcing the speed laws." The picture is a clever satire on the remarks of Judge Shoup, who said that "80% of the people of Xenia were opposed to the enforcement of the speed laws as they are enforced here."

GREENE COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE CLOSURES ON FRIDAY

The "best institute that Greene county teachers ever held," according to the expression heard on all sides, came to a close on Friday afternoon.

Prof. Ward conducted the opening exercises. Prof. Leiper's morning address was on the teaching of English Grammar and the address of Prof. McMillan's was on the standard tests.

Supt. Reynolds made an announcement concerning the "Back to School" movement, and announced that all teachers should report to him within two weeks any pupils who fail to return to school.

At the afternoon meeting Prof. Leiper gave his address on "A Century of Public School." Prof. McMillan's afternoon address was on "Luck in Teaching." Prof. McMillan showed the unreliability of grades as given by different teachers, using as an illustration a geometry paper which was graded by 116 High School teachers in the North-Central Association.

The grades ranged from 30 to 95. W. W. McIntyre, principal of Norwood H. S., who had so much to do with getting the pension law passed, gave a very clear and helpful explanation of the pension law and answered all questions pertaining to it. Mr. McIntyre paid tribute to the late E. B. Cox, and said, "I have often wondered if Xenia fully appreciated him."

Mrs. Custis spoke on the W. C. T. U. and its campaign against cigarettes. Miss Johnson, head of the Red Cross in Xenia, spoke briefly.

The Institute then held its business meeting. The committee on necrology reported through the chairman, C. A. Devoe, the death of four members, Miss Harriet Keiter, Mr. Oliver H. Moon, Prof. A. C. Stretcher of Antioch and Mrs. Stevenson.

Tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Keiter by Supt. D. S. Lynn. Superintendent Devoe paid tribute to the memory of Mr. Moon, who died in France, having given his life to his country.

The chairman of the committee on resolutions, Supt. F. P. Sayrs, read the resolutions, which were accepted by the Institute, and adopted.

A beautiful silk flag was carried into the room, followed by six young men who have been in the service. Several other members who were in the service were not present. The Institute arose and did honor to these returned members. The auditing committee gave its report, which was accepted.

Election of officers resulted in the unanimous choice of Mr. E. J. Arnold, principal of Jamestown High School, as president, and the unanimous reelection of Letitia Dillencourt, principal of Spring Valley H. S. as secretary.

The teachers of Greene county will begin their school work next Monday as stronger teachers and nobler men and women because of the inspiration received in this Institute. SECRETARY.

ORPHIUM.

The dramatic critics of New York newspapers outdid themselves in praising John Barrymore in his production, "Raffles, the Amateur Crackman," which will appear at the Orphium Theater Monday.

Paths of Democracy.

To accustom oneself to disregard the accidents of manner and station sufficiently to see the man as he is, to have a clear sight for genuine character under any of the disguises of unfamiliarity and prejudice, to know how simple and how common are the elements that go to the making of manhood, are the paths that lead to belief in democracy.—George E. Woodberry.

Almost Universal Symbol.

The swastika symbol has been found depicted on tombs at Hissarlik, near ancient Troy; on Buddhist inscriptions in India, in Etruscan necropolises, on coins of Gaza and Corinth; on rock carvings in Sweden, and on Celtic stones in Britain. In America in pre-Columbian times, it was in common use by the aborigines.

Asserts New Discovery
Brings Blessed Relief To Rose and Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make It Yourself At Home At Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing hay fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time hay fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through pharmacists to all hay fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs most nothing. Get a one ounce bottle of Menthatholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.

Then gargle as directed and twice daily snuff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work; but oftentimes simple natural remedies are the best as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

U. S. MUST SUPPLY DEVA- TATED EUROPE WITH IN- DUSTRIAL TOOLS.

The Republican party has always stood for Protection to Home Industry—for a High Tariff, to keep out the stuff from low paid labor countries. Now that trade is to be resumed with our late enemies in the war, this is one of the important things in contemplation by Congress. A High Tariff will be more essential now than ever before, for the reason that the world war has had the effect of raising wages and the high cost of living.

These, of necessity, too, will result in our manufactured articles being dearer than before the war, but Europe, having been for four years, symbolically speaking, "breaking up house-keeping" in all lines of articles for industrial production, is down at the heel in these, and is bound to purchase them from somewhere, and she will largely come to the United States for them.

We saw a suggestion from Herbert Hoover the other day that the United States would do well to loan the worst ruined countries, per there a million or two dollars with which to buy goods in this country. This implied, of course, with good security. Cute idea—you loaning a man money to buy goods of you.

It goes without proof, that one important factor in selling goods to Europe is to provide transportation for them, and this, too, has been attended to.

Although only a few weeks have elapsed since the government authorized the resumption of trading with countries barred from commercial relations by the war, American shipping services already established are more than adequate to handle all the business offering.

With the announcement by the International Mercantile Marine Company that it would operate a line to Constantinople and the Black sea ports, the total of services arranged for from New York alone to Germany, Turkey, former Austrian ports and Bulgaria, is brought to twenty-four. Twelve lines are sending ships to Hamburg, Bremen and Danzig; eight to Constantinople, two to Trieste and Fiume and one to Varna. In addition, lines are in operation or to be operated from Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston and probably will be run from other ports later.

The shipping board, through the allocation of vessels, has been largely instrumental in bringing about a restoration of trade communications with the former enemy-countries, but while a majority of the cargo carriers placed in this service has been obtained from the board, other ships being privately operated are registered under the American, Swedish, Norwegian, Spanish and Japanese flags. From New York more than fifty vessels have been placed on routes to the countries of the central powers, and of these more than thirty are to ply to German ports and more than a dozen to Turkey.

THE RE-BIRTH OF CIVIC IDEALISM.

"If we are to regenerate our cities, to preserve their beauties and to make them better, more is required than the good intention of a group of technical experts or public servants; for this end a veritable civic conscience must be developed in all citizens. When people begin to feel the ties which bind them together as citizens and which attach them to the place which they inhabit, when they shall understand that their prosperity, that their dignity, that their happiness, are bound up with the welfare of the city, when they have learned to cherish their home town, their love for which unites with and intensifies their love for the nation and for humanity itself, then will arise in our country an increased community vitality, and this expansion of the civic consciousness is not the least of the benefactions that we can expect from the adoption of comprehensive programs for future civic development."

"The above is paraphrased to the present civic revival now being conducted in this community—the city of Xenia—for the benefit of all of its citizenship as well as the new large membership in the Chamber of Commerce movement.

No man is worth more to this community than the amount of spiritual, social and civic upbuilding he contributes to that community. That is the yard-stick of the present, and will be of the future, and all other measuring rods are gone into the past, never to return.

Whose fault is it when your boys or girls leave the old home town? Your own indifference. This idea of a boy or girl not being able to develop to their utmost at home is nonsense.

Chateau Thierry and scores of other historic spots "Over There" in the great war were made more sacred by the blood of our own American boys. This re-adjustment period is a time when strong men and women are needed.

Modern Chambers of Commerce know and are teaching that either we are going backwards, or we must apply ourselves vigorously to deal with the vital social, economic and industrial problems of the New Day.

And now this leads to the final point in the argument, we have fought a war for ideals, we have struggled against materialism and the materialistic conception of life. We have placed the human factors far above property and property rights. We have waged a war in the interests of liberty and justice and freedom. Either we are going to practice things or we are going back to the fleshpots of Egypt; either we are going to see man take a fresh step in this evolution, or else we are going to see him go back to the tiger and the ape.

It is impossible that these men who have waded knee-deep in blood across the fields of Flanders have not gained a clearer realization of where the human family is proceeding. The good will must continue to be expressed in community terms. The greatest task facing the Chamber of Commerce and its managing secretary of tomorrow, is that of holding before the community standards of life which will prove to be places of refuge in the day of storm. We must help men to adjust their standards of living in the new era, and in doing so we must, it seems to us, of necessity place the emphasis on the spiritual conception of living.

First Maine Post Office.

In 1775 the first post offices in Maine were established at Kennebunk, Falmouth and Bath. The mails were carried by carriers on foot or on horseback and the average week's mail did not amount to five letters at each office. The rates were high, 64, 12½, 18½, 25 and 37½ cents, according to the distance the letter had to be carried, and double the rate when the letter was on more than one sheet of paper.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

A TERRIBLE DISAPPOINTMENT.

CHAPTER LX.

There had been no opportunity to go again into the attic. But I had by no means forgotten my fixed determination to see what was in that trunk. So one afternoon when Mrs. Gray was out, I sent Hetty on an errand that would take her some time. Then I went up and tried every key I could find in the lock of the battered trunk, but not one would turn. "Everett must keep it in his pocket on his key ring," I grumbled, as I rose stiffly from the floor. Then there came to me a story I had read where an impression of a lock was taken in gum and a key made. I had no hope that I could get the key from Everett if my supposition was right, as he always kept his keys in the pocket of the suit he was wearing, even when in dress clothes. But I COULD get some gum. I COULD try to make an impression, and if I succeeded I could hunt up some one to make me a key.

I hurried down stairs. Hetty came in presently and I at once sent her out for some gum. She looked a trifle surprised, but said nothing. When she returned I gave her a stick and pretended to chew one myself, although gum-chewing was one habit I never had formed.

It was too late for me to make another visit to the attic. It would be dark up there. So I had to content myself until some time when I could get another opportunity. I would not dare go with Mrs. Gray in the house. She would surely be suspicious if I did.

"Get yourself ready for a short trip, just a day or two, and meet me at the station at 5 o'clock," Everett said at breakfast the next morning. "I'll run up and get my bag, and take it to the office with me."

"Oh, where are you going?" I was all excitement. "To New York. I thought you would like to go. I shall have time to shop a little with you. And we will take in a play or two."

"That will be lovely! Shall I take an evening gown?" "Certainly. Your sapphire chiffon, and your cloak. Wear your tailored suit, and take an afternoon dress. That will be all you will require. Be sure you have all the accessories you need to keep yourself looking nice. One never knows what may turn up in New York."

The attic, my curiosity about the trunk, and what it contained, all were forgotten in my delight. Then suddenly came the thought—he is afraid to leave me alone for fear I'll invite someone here or do something to displease him! But I would not allow even that thought to dampen my delight. I wrote mother a note before I started to pack my things.

"Everett is going to New York and is taking me with him," I told her. "We are going to take in some plays, and he is to do some shopping for me, he says. He is really awfully good to me, mother, and you mustn't worry about what Rose says. She DOES exaggerate, you know, at times most dreadfully."

"The only trouble with Everett is that he doesn't consider me as grown up. He treats me like a child, instead of a married woman. Perhaps some day he will realize that I have grown, and will act as if I had. Until then I will have to make the best of it. I suppose. I am so sorry Rose worried you about it."

My letter finished, I hurried upstairs and laid out the things I wanted to take with me. Then I called up Alice Sloane and told her I was going to New York, and asked if she wished me to do anything for her. She gave me several commissions which I promised to fulfill with care. I was so excited I couldn't keep still, and when Mrs. Barr corrected me, my answer was more impulsive than polite. My lesson hour over, I rushed up to dress for the journey. I was nearly ready, my bag packed and strapped, when the telephone rang. It was Everett—

"I have changed my mind about taking you. Do not accept any invitations or invite guests while I am away. Goodbye." If he had heard my gasp of amazement and my sob of disappointment, he paid no attention, for immediately he said goodbye the click of the receiver told me he had hung up. I tried to get him at his office, but he was gone. He had evidently telephoned me from outside.

Unique London Club.

Of the many clubs in London, perhaps the newest and most exclusive is the Thirteen Club, which meets at the thirteenth hour of the thirteenth day of every month. It owes its inception to a lunch held to celebrate the armistice during the world war, at which it was found that 13 were sitting down. The membership is restricted to 13, and at a recent lunch every member made it a point to upset the salt.

Production of Scent.

No substance that refuses to dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in particles in the air, as in the case of light and sound. The damper a thing is the more powerful the odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. It is the vapor of a liquid that smells and not the liquid in the mass itself.

About the Diamond.

The diamond is the hardest stone known. Its name (French, diamant) is derived from the Greek adamas—untamable. The word was probably attached to the stone because it conveyed the idea of invincible hardness. No acid will scar it; no solvent will dissolve it. Ages may pass without dimming the luster of its adamantine face.

IF YOUR BLOOD IS YOUR LIFE

HOW NECESSARY IS PURE BLOOD TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH.

Pure blood is as necessary to your good health as the air you breathe, the food you eat and the water you drink.

When the blood becomes clogged with impurities, you suffer from constipation, your nerves are weakened, your head aches and you feel generally run-down and exhausted.

The best and quickest way to cleanse the blood of the impurities which cause the trouble is to take the treatment prescribed by a successful physician for his patients.

This liquid treatment, ready prepared is known as Prescription C-2223. It is taken in small doses because it is concentrated, and being readily absorbed, cleanses the blood of the impurities which cause your ill health. After using Prescription C-2223 for a short time, your skin will have that glow of health, indicating that your body is being nourished by pure red blood.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, opium, morphine, chloral or strychnine. It is for sale by most good drug stores at $1.50 a bottle, or the C-2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., will mail to you on receipt of price. Clip and mail this advertisement for literature.

For example, the tread of the 30 x 3½ Michelin Universal, is over ¾ of an inch thick. Let us show you a section of this tire in comparison with other makes and judge for yourself whether you too should not use Michelines.

PROCLAMATION

TO THE CITIZENS OF XENIA

The undersigned members of the Board of Directors of the Xenia Business Men's Association have tendered our resignations, as an evidence of our sincere desire to aid in every possible manner in the creation of a Chamber of Commerce which in its structural details and ability to serve the community, shall conform to recognized principles which have been found by actual experience to work with the utmost satisfaction. These resignations are to become effective when a new board of directors shall have been selected and a majority thereof have accepted such positions.

In recent years Chambers of Commerce throughout the United States have become more and more the recognized units through which communities might express themselves in matters pertaining to development of cities along civic, commercial and industrial lines. Broader vision and unselfish service have thrust aside former narrow, selfish, commercial purposes and developed organizations along lines which have rebuilt cities and justified the expenditure of time, talent and financial backing by men and women in various walks of life, all seeking unselfishly the welfare of their communities.

We have launched an expansion campaign to increase the numerical and financial strength of our Chamber of Commerce to a point where it may be able to assume responsible leadership in community work, be truly representative and made to conform to the practices which have been found most effective in progressive communities throughout the country.

We are of the opinion that a broad-minded policy wisely applied in a responsible organization, rightly organized and faithfully supported, will comply with the expressed wishes of leading officials of our government for efficient and well organized communities, and will likewise prove of material benefit to Xenia.

Our resignations are tendered with a view to organization of the Chamber of Commerce along standard modern lines and with the fullest interest in its future. We believe in a strong, efficiently managed organization, such as it is now proposed to provide for Xenia, and we call upon all citizens to give it thoughtful consideration and earnest support.

C. F. FRAZER, President.
C. F. RIDENOUR, Secretary.
C. A. WEAVER, Treasurer.
R. W. IRWIN, JOHN W. PRUGH, ELBERT BABB, C. L. JOBE, H. S. LE-SOURD, Directors.

MANY WOMEN ARE INTERESTED IN CHILD WELFARE WORK HERE

The report of the nominating committee and the election of officers was the most important feature of a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Greene County Child Welfare Committee Branch of the Federal Children's Bureau, League of National Defense, at the meeting held in the City Building Friday afternoon.

There were a great number of ladies present and many others who were unable to be present, telephoned their regrets.

Mrs. Jesse Johnson, temporary chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting and received the report of the nominating committee, which was unanimously adopted.

The new officers thus elected are: Chairman, Mrs. Jesse Johnson; vice chairmen, Mrs. Charles L. Jobe, Mrs. George M. Hudson, Mrs. J. H. Webster, Mrs. Herbert Davis, Mrs. Marshall Wolf, Mrs. Austin Patterson, Mrs. Joseph Piper, Mrs. Minor Monroe, Mrs. H. L. Sayre and Mrs. Karl Babb; secretary and treasurer, Miss Faye Cavanaugh.

There are four branches of the work to be taken up by the committee, the first and most important of which at present is the "back to the schools" movement, which is now nation wide and being given much impetus all over the country.

The movement will be especially pushed during September and October. Miss Bertha Trebein is county chairman in charge of this branch of the work, but she has not yet completed her roster of committee members.

Miss Trebein gave a report of her work at the meeting, which opened a lively discussion, in which Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, Mrs. Robinson, social secretary of the Social Service work, Mrs. Howard Little, Miss Anna Morrow, Mrs. Arthur Perrill, Mrs. E. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Marshall Wolf, Mrs. P. H. Flynn and others took part.

The discussion brought out a great many facts in connection with the number of deficient children in the schools. Several of the ladies are well informed on the condition of these children and stated clearly facts that emphasize the necessity of some sort of social work among these unfortunate. The Mothers Circle will co-operate with the committee in the branch of the work dealing with helping to return the children to school. Statistics compiled during the late war showed that this illiteracy exists, not only in the rural districts but in the city as well.

During the course of the meeting, Mrs. P. H. Flynn entered a boost for the chamber of commerce which is now in the making here. Mrs. Flynn urged that the women present and other women take an active interest in the new body and support it by their actions and personal membership.

The committee adjourned to hold another meeting at such a time as Miss Lucia Johnson, State Director, of Columbus, can be present.

The ladies are urging that other ladies in the city show an interest in the work of the organization.

FACULTY ENLARGED AT PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

When St. Brigid's Parochial school opens next Monday for the fall term, it will be enlarged by way of additional faculty and curriculum.

Under the superintendency of Father Albert Burke, new pastor of St. Brigid's, who is also in charge of the school, the High School department of the Catholic institution will be increased to a standard four year term this year, offering both classic and commercial courses.

According to Father Burke students entering the High School will be eligible to earning a diploma in the arts course as well as a certificate in the commercial branches. The business course will be carried through both the third and fourth years, starting with this year, which will enable pupils who are pursuing the regular to also take up work in the commercial branches and work to a diploma and a certificate.

The enrollment of students for the coming year was made Tuesday, when 160 students were enrolled for both the grades and High School. Students were also given a list of the books and equipment which they were to secure this week in order to be ready to start to school Monday. It is expected that the enrollment will be even greater by the time school starts.

Another teacher has also been added to the faculty, making a total of seven Sisters of Charity who now teach the local school.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Xenia friends of Miss Julia Brown, relative of the Chew and McCormick families, are welcoming her here for an extended visit. Miss Brown has been living in London, England, for the last few years, all through the war, and has had the experience of taking part with other London women in considerable war help work. She arrived from overseas this spring and has since been staying with her sister in Chicago, where she will make her home. Miss Brown has often visited in Xenia, to the gratification of her many friends here.

former managing director, ten years ago, of the progressive and able Detroit, Mich., Board of Commerce, where his work in Civics attracted national attention. CHAIRMAN EXTENDS HIS THANKS TO HIS ASSISTANTS

Xenia, O., 9-4, 1919.
To the Patriotic Citizens of Greene County, Greetings:

On last Monday, Sept. 1st, you, as the citizens of this beautiful county, did yourselves proud. Never was better spirit shown or more unanimous approval given to any man or body of men in a welcome home than you gave the gallant band of boys who represented you in the great war. To each one of you I extend my sincere thanks for your co-operation and whole hearted support.

Every head of a committee and every committee member man or woman, loyally did their whole duty. The women, God bless them, headed by their tireless leader, Mrs. Charles Dean, were glorious in the preparation and abundance of provisions. The financial committee, headed by Charles A. Weaver, provided more money than we needed. The decoration committee, headed by Charles Adair, made Xenia a bower of beauty, a fairland. The entertainment committee, headed by C. F. Ridenour, gave the boys what they enjoyed, and what the civilians appreciated to the limit. The speakers committee, headed by Judge H. L. Smith, gave all of us a rare treat in oratory. The parade committee, headed by Chief James Canada, gave a parade that will live in the minds of the people as long as history. The dinner committee, headed by Jake Kany, "nough said." The reception committee, headed by Charles L. Babb, was on the job and the boys owned the town from their first entrance. Dr. Galloway, head of the badge committee, saw to it that all the soldiers, sailors and marines took home the little souvenir. The publicity committee, headed by Raymond Higgins, was tireless and every man, woman and child in the county knew it was welcome home day.

The O. S. and S. O. Home with its sturdy young sons and beautiful daughters of veterans of the greatest civil war of history, led by their splendid superintendent, Col. Elton, and competent committee of officers, and snappy band, did their full share to make the parade historic.

Especially thanks is due the bands of Greene county, including that splendid musical organization from the O. S. and S. O. Home, for their part in the day's program. The music committee, headed by Mr. Walter Currie, handled this feature of the entertainment in a most satisfactory manner.

The old soldiers, headed by Hon. Andrew Jackson, were here en-masse to show how glad they were that the boys were home, and the boys, how they honored us by their presence in uniform. We are all for them, and know that they enjoyed themselves. I thank you all for glorious consummation of the biggest gala day in the history of the county.

JOHN W. PRUGH,
Chairman County Home-Coming Com.

PRESIDENT WILSON CARRIES HIS FIGHT TO HOME OF ENEMY

Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—Following a four mile ride through flag decked streets, President Wilson this morning addressed an audience that filled every inch of the big convention hall here. As at St. Louis, the meeting was entirely non-partisan in character. It was under the auspices of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

President Wilson was escorted to his place on the platform at exactly 10 o'clock. He was cheered to the echo as he walked forward to the front of the big platform. The entire audience had been given small American flags and the men and women stood on their feet and waved them as they cheered.

The president sat smiling at the crowd while waiting for the enthusiasm to subside. It was some minutes before the presiding officer, Mr. F. A. Parsons, president of the Chamber of Commerce, could get the attention of the crowd to introduce the president.

The hall was jammed and there was a firm crowd all along the route that the procession followed from the station.

As Chairman Parsons started to speak some one back in the audience shouted:

"Mr. President, remember this is the home town of Jim Reed."

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 6.—President Wilson carried his fight to arouse public sentiment for ratification of the treaty of Versailles into the home of Senator James Reed, the leading Democratic opponent of the document today.

Fresh from what he considered a great personal triumph in St. Louis, the president planned to follow up his line of argument here that ratification of the treaty was essential to the future welfare of the United States.

The president and Mrs. Wilson rose early and breakfasted on their train. They took up a position on the rear platform of the train and waved a greeting to the people who had gathered at the various stations to see the train go by.

The president was plainly pleased with the character of the receptions yesterday. He characterized the meeting last night as "wonderful." He told the members of the party that he was convinced public sentiment could be influenced to check much of the opposition to the treaty.

It was the intention of the president, Secretary Tumulty explained.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BOTH RUNNING FOR PARTY OFFICE.

Mrs. Mary A. Wahrum and her daughter, Mrs. Louise W. Quick, both of Brooklyn, N. Y., both of whom were candidates for the County Committee, with neither knowing that the other was in the race. The mother is a staunch Democrat while her daughter is a Republican.

to analyze the economic clauses of the treaty today and to show how essential it was to the financial welfare of the country that it be ratified.

The president then declined to make public the text of his reply to the steel committee of the American Federation of Labor that called upon him to aid the effort to secure negotiations between the Federation and Judge E. H. Gary, president of the Steel Corporation. The president admitted he was much concerned over the danger of a general strike in the steel industry and is using every possible influence to keep the men from walking out.

He already has asked President Campers to try to prevent any strike until after the planned conference between the representatives of capital, labor and the farmers is held in Washington, next Monday. However, the information reaching here today indicates that this will be impossible.

Today's program called for a meeting and speech here and then the party was to leave for Des Moines, where the president will speak tonight and remain over Sunday. Instructions were sent on that the president is to be allowed to spend Sunday in his own way. It was his intention to go to church in the morning and to take a ride in the afternoon.

The presidential train was halted for three quarters of an hour in the early morning in order that the arrival in Kansas City could be made according to schedule. A small crowd of farmers and residents of independence gathered and greeted the president who shook hands with the men and women. Some of the latter wore big cottage aprons and Mother Hubbard house dresses, and one of them in an apologetic manner informed the president that they "would have dressed up" if they had known that he was to stop. The president told them that he was glad indeed to see them "just as you are."

One man told the president that independence formerly was the home of the noted bandit, Jesse James.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—With Columbus in her best "bib and tucker" for the opening of the National encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic tomorrow, her citizens and visitors are still walking this morning, with a chance that before noon the platform men will vote to return to work. Mayor Karb and union leaders early today expressed a belief that the men will vote today to run the cars, probably starting shortly after noon. Neither would say what agreement has been reached.

The linemen, who have been on strike since August 8, have refused to arbitrate and left the meeting, which lasted until after midnight last night. Who will make necessary line repairs is not known.

Policeman Nierman has already refused an offer of $500 for his find.

SERVE IN ARMY EXACTLY ONE YEAR

Exactly a year from the day in which they were inducted into the service at Camp Sherman, Lawrence Fry of this city and Arthur Alexander of Yellow Springs received their discharges and arrived home Friday.

Both young men were in the increment of fifty who left Xenia September 5, 1918, and they have been in the service in Camp Sherman ever since. Since the signing of the armistice, both have been attached to demobilization units, called billeting and supply companies, assisting in discharging overseas men. These units have been broken up at Sherman now, and there will be no more discharges there, the few who were not discharged being sent to Camp Meade. The Fortieth Regular Infantry is all that is left of the camp that made Ohio famous and they are guarding a city of empty barracks.

Fry and Alexander were the last Greene County boys located at Camp Sherman to be discharged.

Columbus, O., Sept. 6.—Yesterday being the last day to get referendums on the 1919 ballot, under the sixty day limit allowed by law, the presidential suffrage, the Reynolds-Fouts suffrage bill, two minor Crabbe prohibition bills and the bill of Senator Miller providing for a liquor commissioner, will not be voted on until next week. POOR CORNELIUS HAVING HARD TIME

New York, Sept. 6.—Financial problems are worrying Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., these days. And the problem isn't how to dispose of his "unearned increment" from his family's vast fortune, but how to stretch $25 a week over the necessities of life.

Against the wishes of his family, young Cornelius has flatly refused to go to Yale and has taken up newspaper work on a New York paper. He is "cubbing" for $25 a week. His father informed him that no more allowance would be forthcoming, but that he might have his room at home and drop around occasionally for a meal.

Then the family went to Europe, closing up the house and the scion of the Vanderbilts is sleeping on a small boat which is his own, down on Long Island to save room rent, and eats—when he can—at places where $25 is looked upon as real money. And there aren't many of such in New York now.

CAPT. DARLINGTON AND H. E. RICE TO BE AMONG SPEAKERS

The civic dinner to be held in connection with the chamber of commerce organization campaign promises to be a great success. 150 reservations have already been made, and more are coming by telephone and mail. The additional 100 seats will be available to those who reserve them first. Lucius E. Wilson is expected to arrive from Chicago early Monday and he will spend the day in conference with business and community leaders. Local speakers are Captain C. L. Darlington and Harry E. Rice. C. A. Weaver will preside at the dinner and will introduce the speakers.

Captains will draw their districts by lot Monday night at the dinner.

Captains and workers met last night at campaign headquarters to receive instructions for their work of the coming week. Enthusiasm and determination marked the meeting.

The actual enlistment of a minimum of 300 members, pledged to pay $25 dues annually for three years, will commence Tuesday morning. It is believed, however, that 300 members will never satisfy the campaign organization of 12 teams, consisting of almost 75 workers.

Daily luncheons, with snappy songs, interesting reports by captains, and short talks by the best speakers that can be secured will feature next week's activities. The luncheons will be served at the campaign headquarters. They will start at 12:00, sharp, and when 1:15 strikes the luncheons will stop.

This will be a standing rule with all noon-day chamber of commerce meetings from now on. When business men learn they can make appointments on this basis, and know they will be able to keep them, luncheons and conferences will become popular.

RECEPTION FOR VETERANS IS A BRILLIANT EVENT

Brilliant in all its details was the reception which the Second United Presbyterian church tendered its soldier and sailor boys and their friends in their beautiful church on West Market street Friday night.

The members of the session of the congregation with their wives and the members of the Young Ladies Missionary Society were the hosts and hostesses to Uncle Sam's boys. The congregation has an honor roll of twenty-nine names and almost every man who was in the region was present in addition to any military guests the boys chose to invite, the invitation to friends being a liberal one.

Under the direction of the choir leader, Miss Martha Anderson, a program of popular war songs was enjoyed. As a tribute to the parents of the boys Robert Moore sang "Dear Old Pal." David Bryson sang "The Americans Come." Dr. J. G. Carson sang "My Ain Country." William Anderson sang "Your Flag and My Flag." Miss Martha Anderson and Mrs. Graham Bryson sang "Mickey." With Mrs. Fannie Moore at the piano the audience whistled "Beautiful Ohio" and "Till We Meet Again."

The address of welcome to the returned soldiers and sailors was given by the pastor, Rev. Charles P. Proud, fit D. D., and the response on behalf of the boys by Captain Ben R. McClellan M. D. The formal program came to an end with the audience singing the beautiful nineteenth Psalm and prayer by Rev. Joseph Kyle D. D.

Among the outstanding features of the evening was the staging of a farce comedy entitled "Unclaimed Blessings" by the Young Ladies Missionary Society. The same society also served appetizing lunch to the large company of guests, numbering about two hundred and twenty-five.

The newly decorated house of worship was thrown open from top to bottom and many expressions of delight in the delicate cream frescoing of the walls, and refinishing of all the wood work were heard. The military decorations for the evening also claimed much notice.

BOLSHEVIKS KILL 23 AMERICANS

London, Sept. 6.—The killing of 23 American soldiers by Russian Bolsheviks in an outbreak near Vladivostok was reported in a delayed telegram from Tokyo to the Daily Express today.

There are now 8,000 soldiers in the vicinity of Vladivostok, but this number is said to be greatly inadequate, if the general populace should become hostile.

Destruction by roving bands of reds, interference with railway communication by "free lance" forces, such as the detachments of Cossacks led by General Semenov and strikes are producing a very unsatisfactory state of affairs in far eastern Russia, Tokyo reported.

The inter-allied mission at Vladivostok is making protests and is seeking the removal of General Semenov.

ACTORS STRIKE COMES TO END IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 6.—Broadway came back into its own today. The actors strike is over.

Announcement was made at 3 o'clock this morning that a settlement had been reached satisfactory to both sides. Representatives of the actors Equity Association and the Producing Managers Association had been in continuous session since early last evening.

Details of the settlement were not announced. It was said that the managers had won out on their stand for an open shop. They were forced to back down in their determination not to recognize the Equity, however.

Plans were being rushed today for the re-opening of the thirty theaters closed by the strike. Some of them expected to put on matinees this afternoon. Others will be opened tonight and by next Monday every show that was forced to close down probably will be on again. Several new shows that had been scheduled to open in the past three weeks also were expected to have their premieres soon.

To the dramatic group of the authors league of America goes the credit of bringing the warring factions together. Augustus Thomas, chairman of that body, succeeded in getting representatives of the two sides to consent to a meeting. It was the first time that the principals themselves on the two sides had met for frank discussion. Heretofore their attorneys have done all the negotiating.

Arthur Hopkins, A. H. Woods, David Belasco, Samuel S. Harris, Henry W. Savage, Wm. A. Brady and John B. Golden were present for the managers. Francis Wilson, president, Frank Gilmore and Justus Sheffield were there from the Actors Equity Association.

The settlement followed radical action taken by the stage hands union last night. Before it was announced that the actors strike was over an order was sent out by the officers of that body calling out stage hands in every theater throughout the country leased by the Shuberts.

"THE 80 PER CENT"

Frank Moorman, local amateur cartoonist, who occupies his spare time and uses his considerable ability in drawing cartoons of local interest, has drawn a cartoon on the subject of the local speed law enforcement, taking a fling at the Marcus Shoup letter to the Cincinnati Automobile Club.

The cartoon, which is on display in the window of the Sayre & Hemphill drug store, shows prominent citizens jumping without regard to dignity, to escape a speeding machine which is traveling at an excessive speed through the city streets. The citizens who are dodging to save their lives are labeled "some of the '80%' of who are opposed to enforcing the speed laws." The picture is a clever satire on the remarks of Judge Shoup, who said that "80%" of the people of Xenia were opposed to the enforcement of the speed laws as they are enforced here.

GREENE COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE CLOSES ON FRIDAY

The "best institute that Greene county teachers ever held," according to the expression heard on all sides, came to a close on Friday afternoon.

Prof. Ward conducted the opening exercises. Prof. Leiper's morning address was on the teaching of English Grammar and the address of Prof. McMillan's was on the standard tests.

Supt. Reynolds made an announcement concerning the "Back to School" movement, and announced that all teachers should report to him within two weeks any pupils who fail to return to school.

At the afternoon meeting Prof. Leiper gave his address on "A Century of Public School." Prof. McMillan's afternoon address was on "Luck in Teaching." Prof. McMillan showed the unreliability of grades as given by different teachers, using as an illustration a geometry paper which was graded by 116 High School teachers in the North-Central Association.

The grades ranged from 30 to 95. W. W. McIntyre, principal of Norwood H. S., who had so much to do with getting the pension law passed, gave a very clear and helpful explanation of the pension law and answered all questions pertaining to it. Mr. McIntyre paid tribute to the late E. B. Cox, and said, "I have often wondered if Xenia fully appreciated him."

Mrs. Custis spoke on the W. C. T. U. and its campaign against cigarettes. Miss Johnson, head of the Red Cross in Xenia, spoke briefly.

The institute then held its business meeting. The committee on necrology reported through the chairman, C. A. Devoe, the death of four members, Miss Harriet Keiter, Mr. Oliver H. Moon, Prof. A. C. Stretcher of Antioch and Mrs. Stevenson.

Tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Keiter by Supt. D. S. Lynn. Superintendent Devoe paid tribute to the memory of Mr. Moon, who died in France, having given his life to his country.

The chairman of the committee on resolutions, Supt. F. P. Sayre, read the resolutions, which were accepted by the institute, and adopted.

A beautiful silk flag was carried into the room, followed by six young men who have been in the service. Several other members who were in the service were not present. The institute arose and did honor to these returned members. The auditing committee gave its report, which was accepted.

Election of officers resulted in the unanimous choice of Mr. E. J. Arnold, principal of Jamestown High School, as president, and the unanimous reelection of Letitia Dillencourt, principal of Spring Valley H. S. as secretary.

The teachers of Greene county will begin their school work next Monday as stronger teachers and nobler men and women because of the inspiration received in this institute. SECRETARY.

STEPPING OVER DOLLARS

STEPPING OVER DOLLARS TO PICK UP PENNIES." You've heard the expression. You're no doubt doing it and don't know it.

THIS TALK IS PRIMARILY TO THE FARMER. Soon the burden of his summer work will be over with Fall presenting its own particular problems among which none are so important—none so pregnant with money making possibilities—as the proper housing of grain and livestock.

PIGS ARE PIGS THESE DAYS, AND TO LOSE even one at suckling time means loss equal to the cost of material for providing shelter for twenty. IT'S WELL WORTH THINKING ABOUT. It's time to take the initial steps against the inevitable penalty which follows the trail of carelessness and indifference. There never was a time when the farmer could build and repair so consistently as now. The market value of his product has increased entirely out of proportion to the cost of material which he needs to protect it.

IT'S TIME TO BUILD—AND BUILD WELL for poor lumber is expensive at any price. "PERFECT KQUALITY" lumber is logged carefully, manufactured expertly and shipped with the rapidity which insures delivery in any dimension when you need it. "PERFECT KQUALITY" lumber fills the bill.

UNLESS YOU'RE STANDING IN YOUR OWN LIGHT you are in the market for something. It could not be otherwise for not a year passes that something ought to be done. We are of easy access. Let us prove that we can serve you, save for you and please you.

Paths of Democracy.

To accustom oneself to disregard the accidents of manner and station sufficiently to see the man as he is, to have a clear sight for genuine character under any of the disguises of unfamiliarity and prejudice, to know how simple and how common are the elements that go to the making of manhood, are the paths that lead to belief in democracy.—George E. Woodberry.

Almost Universal Symbol.

The swastika symbol has been found depicted on tombs at Hissarlik, near ancient Troy; on Buddhist inscriptions in India, in Etruscan necropolises, on coins of Gaza and Corinth, on rock carvings in Sweden, and on Celtic stones in Britain. In America in pre-Columbian times, it was in common use by the aborigines.

U. S. MUST SUPPLY DEVASTATED EUROPE WITH INDUSTRIAL TOOLS.

The Republican party has always stood for Protection to Home Industry—for a High Tariff, to keep out the stuff from low paid labor countries. Now that trade is to be resumed with our late enemies in the war, this is one of the important things in contemplation by Congress. A High Tariff will be more essential now than ever before, for the reason that the world war has had the effect of raising wages and the high cost of living.

These, of necessity, too, will result in our manufactured articles being dearer than before the war, but Europe, having been for four years, symbolically speaking, "breaking up house-keeping" in all lines of articles for industrial production, is down at the heel in these, and is bound to purchase them from somewhere, and she will largely come to the United States for them.

We saw a suggestion from Herbert Hoover the other day that the United States would do well to loan the worst ruined countries, over there a million or two dollars with which to buy goods in this country. This implied, of course, with good security. Cute idea—you loaning a man money to buy goods of you.

It goes without proof, that one important factor in selling goods to Europe is to provide transportation for them, and this, too, has been attended to.

Although only a few weeks have elapsed since the government authorized the resumption of trading with countries barred from commercial relations by the war, American shipping services already established are more than adequate to handle all the business offering.

With the announcement by the International Mercantile Marine Company that it would operate a line to Constantinople and the Black sea ports, the total of services arranged for from New York alone to Germany, Turkey, former Austrian ports and Bulgaria, is brought to twenty-four. Twelve lines are sending ships to Hamburg, Bremen and Danzig, eight to Constantinople, two to Trieste and Fiume and one to Varna. In addition, lines are in operation or to be operated from Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston and probably will be run from other ports later.

The shipping board, through the allocation of vessels, has been largely instrumental in bringing about a restoration of trade communications with the former enemy countries, but while a majority of the cargo carriers placed in this service has been obtained from the board, other ships being privately operated are registered under the American, Swedish, Norwegian, Spanish and Japanese flags. From New York more than fifty vessels have been placed on routes to the countries of the central powers, and of these more than thirty are to ply to German ports and more than a dozen to Turkey.

THE RE-BIRTH OF CIVIC IDEALISM.

"If we are to regenerate our cities, to preserve their beauties and to make them better, more is required than the good intention of a group of technical experts or public servants; for this end a veritable civic conscience must be developed in all citizens. When people begin to feel the ties which bind them together as citizens and which attach them to the place which they inhabit, when they shall understand that their prosperity, that their dignity, that their happiness, are bound up with the welfare of the city, when they have learned to cherish their home town, their love for which unites with love and intensifies their love for the nation and for humanity itself, then will arise in our country an increased community vitality, and this expansion of the civic consciousness is not the least of the benefactions that we can expect from the adoption of comprehensive programs for future civic development."

"The above is paraphrased to the present civic revival now being conducted in this community—the city of Xenia—for the benefit of all of its citizenship as well as the new large membership in the Chamber of Commerce movement.

No man is worth more to this community than the amount of spiritual, social and civic upbuilding he contributes to that community. That is the yard-stick of the present, and will be of the future, and all other measuring rods are gone into the past, never to return.

Whose fault is it when your boys or girls leave the old home town? Your own indifference. This idea of a boy or girl not being able to develop to their utmost at home is nonsense.

Chateau Thierry and scores of other historic spots "Over There" in the great war were made more sacred by the blood of our own American boys. This re-adjustment period is a time when strong men and women are needed.

Modern Chambers of Commerce know and are teaching that either we are going backwards, or we must apply ourselves vigorously to deal with the vital social, economic and industrial problems of the New Day.

And now this leads to the final point in the argument, we have fought a war for ideals, we have struggled against materialism and the materialistic conception of life. We have placed the human factors far above property and property rights. We have waged a war in the interests of liberty and justice and freedom. Either we are going to practice things or we are going back to the fleshpots of Egypt; either we are going to see man take a fresh step in this evolution, or else we are going to see him go back to the tiger and the ape.

It is impossible that these men who have waded knee-deep in blood across the fields of Flanders have not gained a clearer realization of where the human family is proceeding. The good will must continue to be expressed in community terms. The greatest task facing the Chamber of Commerce and its managing secretary of tomorrow, is that of holding before the community standards of life which will prove to be places of refuge in the day of storm. We must help men to adjust their standards of living in the new day and in doing so we must, it seems to us, of necessity place the emphasis on the spiritual conception of living.

First Maine Post Office.

In 1775 the first post offices in Maine were established at Kennebec, Falmouth and Bath. The mails were carried by carriers on foot or on horseback and the average week's mail did not amount to five letters at each office. The rates were high, 64, 12½, 18½, 25 and 37½ cents, according to the distance the letter had to be carried, and double the rate when the letter was on more than one sheet of paper.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

A TERRIBLE DISAPPOINTMENT.

CHAPTER LX.

There had been no opportunity to go again into the attic. But I had by no means forgotten my fixed determination to see what was in that trunk. So one afternoon when Mrs. Gray was out, I sent Hetty on an errand that would take her some time. Then I went up and tried every key I could find in the lock of the battered trunk, but not one would turn.

"Everett must keep it in his pocket on his key ring," I grumbled, as I rose stiffly from the floor. Then there came to me a story I had read where an impression of a lock was taken in gum and a key made. I had no hope that I could get the key from Everett if my supposition was right, as he always kept his keys in the pocket of the suit he was wearing, even when in dress clothes. But I COULD get some gum. I COULD try to make an impression, and if I succeeded I could hunt up some one to make me a key.

I hurried down stairs. Hetty came in presently and I at once sent her out for some gum. She looked a trifle surprised, but said nothing. When she returned I gave her a stick and pretended to chew one myself, although gum-chewing was one habit I never had formed.

It was too late for me to make another visit to the attic. It would be dark up there. So I had to content myself until some time when I could get another opportunity. I would not dare go with Mrs. Gray in the house. She would surely be suspicious if I did.

"Get yourself ready for a short trip, just a day or two, and meet me at the station at 5 o'clock," Everett said at breakfast the next morning. "I'll run up and get my bag, and take it to the office with me."

"Oh, where are you going?" I was all excitement.

"To New York. I thought you would like to go. I shall have time to shop a little with you. And we will take in a play or two."

"That will be lovely! Shall I take an evening gown?"

"Certainly. Your sapphire chignon, and your cloak. Wear your tailored suit, and take an afternoon dress. That will be all you will require. Be sure you have all the accessories you need to keep yourself looking nice. One never knows what may turn up in New York."

The attic, my curiosity about the trunk, and what it contained, all were forgotten in my delight. Then suddenly came the thought—he is afraid to leave me alone for fear I'll invite someone here or do something to displease him! But I would not allow even that thought to dampen my delight. I wrote mother a note before I started to pack my things.

"Everett is going to New York and is taking me with him," I told her. "We are going to take in some plays, and he is to do some shopping for me, he says. He is really awfully good to me, mother, and you mustn't worry about what Rose says. She DOES exaggerate, you know, at times most dreadfully."

"The only trouble with Everett is that he doesn't consider me as grown up. He treats me like a child, instead of a married woman. Perhaps some day he will realize that I have grown, and will act as if I had. Until then I will have to make the best of it. I suppose. I am so sorry Rose worried you about it."

My letter finished, I hurried upstairs and laid out the things I wanted to take with me. Then I called up Alice Sloane and told her I was going to New York, and asked if she wished me to do anything for her. She gave me several commissions which I promised to fulfill with care.

I was so excited I couldn't keep still, and when Mrs. Barr corrected me, my answer was more impulsive than polite. My lesson hour over, I rushed up to dress for the journey. I was nearly ready, my bag packed and strapped, when the telephone rang. It was Everett—

"I have changed my mind about taking you. Do not accept any invitations or invite guests while I am away. Goodbye." If he had heard my gasp of amazement and my sob of disappointment, he paid no attention, for immediately he said goodbye the click of the receiver told me he had hung up. I tried to get him at his office, but he was gone. He had evidently telephoned me from outside.

Unique London Club.

Of the many clubs in London, perhaps the newest and most exclusive is the Thirteen Club, which meets at the thirteenth hour of the thirteenth day of every month. It owes its inception to a lunch held to celebrate the armistice during the world war, at which it was found that 13 were sitting down. The membership is restricted to 13, and at a recent lunch every member made it a point to upset the salt.

Production of Scent.

No substance that refuses to dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in particles in the air, as in the case of light and sound. The damper a thing is the more powerful the odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. It is the vapor of a liquid that smells and not the liquid in the mass itself.

About the Diamond.
The diamond is the hardest stone known. Its name (French, diamant) is derived from the Greek adamas—untamable. The word was probably attached to the stone because it conveyed the idea of invincible hardness. No acid will scar it; no solvent will dissolve it. Ages may pass without dimming the luster of its adamantine race.

PROCLAMATION

The undersigned members of the Board of Directors of the Xenia Business Men's Association have tendered our resignations, as an evidence of our sincere desire to aid in every possible manner in the creation of a Chamber of Commerce which in its structural details and ability to serve the community, shall conform to recognized principles which have been found by actual experience to work with the utmost satisfaction. These resignations are to become effective when a new board of directors shall have been selected and a majority thereof have accepted such positions.

In recent years Chambers of Commerce throughout the United States have become more and more the recognized units through which communities might express themselves in matters pertaining to development of cities along civic, commercial and industrial lines. Broader vision and unselfish service have thrust aside former narrow, selfish, commercial purposes and developed organizations along lines which have rebuilt cities and justified the expenditure of time, talent and financial backing by men and women in various walks of life, all seeking unselfishly the welfare of their communities.

We have launched an expansion campaign to increase the numerical and financial strength of our Chamber of Commerce to a point where it may be able to assume responsible leadership in community work, be truly representative and made to conform to the practices which have been found most effective in progressive communities throughout the country.

We are of the opinion that a broad-minded policy wisely applied in a responsible organization, rightly organized and faithfully supported, will comply with the expressed wishes of leading officials of our government for efficient and well organized communities, and will likewise prove of material benefit to Xenia.

Our resignations are tendered with a view to organization of the Chamber of Commerce along standard modern lines and with the fullest interest in its future. We believe in a strong, efficiently managed organization, such as it is now proposed to provide for Xenia, and we call upon all citizens to give it thoughtful consideration and earnest support.

C. F. FRAZER, President.
C. F. RIDENOUR, Secretary.
C. A. WEAVER, Treasurer.

MANY WOMEN ARE INTERESTED IN CHILD WELFARE WORK HERE

The report of the nominating committee and the election of officers was the most important feature of a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Greene County Child Welfare Committee Branch of the Federal Children's Bureau, League of National Defense, at the meeting held in the City Building Friday afternoon.

There were a great number of ladies present and many others who were unable to be present, telephoned their regrets.

Mrs. Jesse Johnson, temporary chairman of the committee, presided at the meeting and received the report of the nominating committee, which was unanimously adopted.

The new officers thus elected are: Chairman, Mrs. Jesse Johnson; vice chairman, Mrs. Charles L. Jobe; Mrs. George M. Hudson, Mrs. J. H. Webster, Mrs. Herbert Davis, Mrs. Marshall Wolf, Mrs. Austin Patterson, Mrs. Joseph Piper, Mrs. Minor Monroe, Mrs. H. L. Sayre and Mrs. Karl Babb; secretary and treasurer, Miss Faye Cavanaugh.

There are four branches of the work to be taken up by the committee, the first and most important of which at present is the "back to the schools" movement, which is now nationwide and being given much impetus all over the country.

The movement will be especially pushed during September and October. Miss Bertha Trebein is county chairman in charge of this branch of the work, but she has not yet completed her roster of committee members.

Miss Trebein gave a report of her work at the meeting, which opened a lively discussion, in which Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, Mrs. Robinson, social secretary of the Social Service work, Mrs. Howard Little, Miss Anna Morrow, Mrs. Arthur Perrill, Mrs. E. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Marshall Wolf, Mrs. P. H. Flynn and others took part.

The discussion brought out a great many facts in connection with the number of deficient children in the schools. Several of the ladies are well informed on the condition of these children and stated clearly facts that emphasize the necessity of some sort of social work among these unfortunate. The Mothers Circle will co-operate with the committee in the branch of the work dealing with helping to return the children to school. Statistics compiled during the late war showed that this illiteracy exists, not only in the rural districts but in the city as well.

During the course of the meeting, Mrs. P. H. Flynn entered a boost for the chamber of commerce which is now in the making here. Mrs. Flynn urged that the women present and other women take an active interest in the new body and support it by their actions and personal membership.

The committee adjourned to hold another meeting at such a time as Miss Lucia Johnson, State Director, of Columbus, can be present.

The ladies are urging that other ladies in the city show an interest in the work of the organization.

FACULTY ENLARGED AT PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

When St. Brigid's Parochial school opens next Monday for the fall term, it will be enlarged by way of additional faculty and curriculum.

Under the superintendency of Father Albert Burke, new pastor of St. Brigid's, who is also in charge of the school, the High School department of the Catholic institution will be increased to a standard four year term this year, offering both classic and commercial courses.

According to Father Burke students entering the High School will be eligible to earning a diploma in the arts course as well as a certificate in the commercial branches. The business course will be carried through both the third and fourth years, starting with this year, which will enable pupils who are pursuing the regular to also take up work in the commercial branches and work to a diploma and a certificate.

The enrollment of students for the coming year was made Tuesday, when 160 students were enrolled for both the grades and High School. Students were also given a list of the books and equipment which they were to secure this week in order to be ready to start to school Monday. It is expected that the enrollment will be even greater by the time school starts.

Another teacher has also been added to the faculty, making a total of seven Sisters of Charity who now teach the local school.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Xenia friends of Miss Julia Brown, relative of the Chew and McCormick families, are welcoming her here for an extended visit. Miss Brown has been living in London, England, for the last few years, all through the war, and has had the experience of taking part with other London women in considerable war help work. She arrived from overseas this spring and has since been staying with her sister in Chicago, where she will make her home. Miss Brown has often visited in Xenia, to the gratification of her many friends here.

KIDDIE KAPERS

SMILES

NATURALLY.

The particularness of the man you see cleaning his nails one morning and peeling an apple the next is bound to be under suspicion, especially if his knife has only one blade!

AN EXPENSIVE TRIMMING.

We have a hunch a parsley bunch, A "jit" the markets make; But, ah, 'tis sad, 'twill always add One dollar to a steak!

A CRUCIAL TEST.

If one can love a maiden still The while she eats corn from the cob That love will surely last until Old Time himself has lost his job.

THE IMPOSSIBLE.

He: To look at me you would never think I took a prize at a beauty contest when a baby. She: No! He: I didn't.

HE KNEW.

Teacher—Can any of you children tell me who Christopher Columbus was? Billy—He's the guy that got up America.

CONTRARY.

"An auto is almost human in its contrariness." "Why so?" "I've noticed that mine always gets blocks away from a gasoline station before it runs out of gas."

WHAT MAKES THE WORLD GO ROUND.

The world moves on though you may frown, Or smile in fortune's cup; For one half's busy turning down The cranks that will turn up. Cartons Magazine.

TOO BAD!

The bald-headed row lost much of its savor as soon as the burlesque show began to advertise about bringing the ladies with you.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Many a city girl did things in the country that a country girl's Pa and Ma feared she might be tempted to do in the city!

THE ABSOLUTE LIMIT.

The ordinary, biscuit-shaped powder puff is bad enough but when a girl springs one that still has a couple of underwear buttons sewed to it, it's a case of Watson, the needle!

THESE GIDDY TIMES.

The kids of today may sometimes use the phrase, "like Mother used to make," but it will mean the opposite of what it does now!

A HORRIBLE FUTURE.

Columbus bars dove hunting. Chickens may come next!

HER ONE FAULT.

Maizie was a typist of ability, but couldn't keep a job because every morning after a dance the night before she just WOULD hit the old Remington in ragtime!

PUNCTUALITY.

"Telephone service prompt?" "Parts of it. The bills always get around on time."

EVIDENTLY EXPERIENCED.

I see you have a new cook. Is she experienced? I surmise so. She started the first day by coming late and then asking for the afternoon off.
